The View From Within

When we look out a window, the view outside spreads wide before us. We can see the entire scene from every spot we look but shifting to another position will change the way we see that scene. Perkins High School presents such a view. If we look at it one way, it is a school with a strong academic program. In another way, the scene is of competitive athletics. Still other views are of clubs, the music department, and community support. But the entire view is still of Perkins High School, a view that is familiar and one of pride to all its students.

Each view is different and yet similar. Academics give us a wide range of subjects to delve into and explore. Clubs allow us to try new things and have fun. Sports are competitive, wide-ranging, and force challenges. Our music program is tuned to high quality and teamwork. And the Perkins community supports us in all that we attempt! The programs are strong, but the students make them stronger. Students are the source of Perkins' pride. Each view of Perkins is strong and contributes to the pride students feel in our school and in themselves.

15TH WINTER OLYMPIC GAMES AT CALGARY

Eddie Edwards of Britain reminded the world that the Olympics are not just to win medals. Here, he smiles with victory for having successfully completed his first jump. below — Pirmin Zurbriggen flew down the course to a gold medal in the men's downhill race.

The Olympics officially opened with the lighting of the torch by 12-year old Robin Perry — herself a symbol of Olympic athletes to come.

Olympic Highlights

- Pirmin Zurbriggen (SUI) — downhill, gold
- Jill Watson & Peter Oppegard (USA) — pairs figure skating, bronze
- Sergei Grinkov & Ekaterina Gordeeva (USSR) — pairs skating, gold
- Brian Boitano (USA) — mens figure skating, gold
- Brian Orser (CAN) — mens figure skating, silver
- Eric Flaim (USA) — 1500m mens speedskating, silver

Dan Jansen will be remembered for his courage when he continued to skate even during the painful experience of his sister's death and several falls.

The 15th Winter Olympics opened in Calgary February 13 with a show by the famous Calgary Stampede, then moved to the raising of the flags of the 57 participating nations. This was followed by the entrance of the athletes themselves, displaying their costumes, spirit, and pride. There was the entertainment of dances and colorful balloons, and the solemnity of the raising of the Olympic flag. And there was the moment when the Games officially opened with the lighting of the torch by the final runner, Robin Perry.

Many of the athletes had dreams of Olympic gold; some won, others lost, but all lived out the dream of millions watching worldwide. They also realized anew, as did the viewers, that winning isn't everything.

The Games carried on for sixteen exciting days. All too soon, however, the Olympics ended and the Olympic flame died in Calgary.

The Games were over, but there was the promise of the Summer Games in Seoul, South Korea and the new Games in four years.

Brian Boitano won a narrow victory over Canada's Brian Orser. Both skated exciting performances.

Olympic Highlights

Bonnie Blair (USA) — 500m womens speedskating, gold
— women's speedskating, bronze

Alberto Tomba (ITA) — mens Giant Slalom, gold
Soviet Hockey Team — gold

Katarina Witt (GDR) — womens figure skating, gold
Debbie Thomas (USA) — womens figure skating, bronze

To end a fun filled week, there was a slave auction and a coronation where the girls escorted the guys. Santuu Aaltonen was crowned King and was escorted by Karen Stockdale.

The student council also held a slave auction to raise money for their activities.

Mr. Muffler — fearless leader of our academic teams.

Perkins' Academic Challenge team finished sixth out of a field of fifteen teams, narrowly missing a chance at the second round. The team finished third in the Holiday Bowl held at Firelands College, and also won an Academic Challenge match on Channel 5. They also participated in Knowledgemaster, a national computer competition. Perkins placed in the top third in the country and seventeenth in Ohio. Mr. Muffler summed it up, saying "By anyone's standards, this year's Academic Team MUST be considered successful."

Firelands Challenge

Perkins High School's Firelands Challenge team had a "growing" year, as most of the team was composed of first year members. During a match held at PHS, students were allowed to watch their team compete as the match was broadcast on WLEC. Team members included: Eric Benedict, Cynthia Greene, Joe Kappes, Carrie Long, Shane Powell, Steve Tann, David Tomasula, and Amy Waterfield. Ed Muffler, the team's advisor, said "The intellectual abilities of the team were equal to, and in some respects superior to, our teams in the past."

"You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown"

The PHS music department presented the musical "You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown." The show was held the weekend of April 8, 9 and 10. Mr. Skaggs directed the play, starring Arthur Funni as Charlie Brown, JoAnne Guba as Snoopy, Cathy Ailes as Lucy, Bryan Thom as Schroeder, Stacey Ross as Patty, and Jason Westgate as Linus. The classes of Miss Schuman and Mr. Fleming helped with painting and construction of the set. The PHS orchestra, directed by Mr. Kustec, provided music for the production. The outstanding effort of both the cast and crew paid off, as the musical was a tremendous success.

National Honor Society — Fall 1987

New NHS members enjoy juice and donuts after induction.

The year of 1987-88 brought with it the fall and spring National Honor Society inductions. Parents were invited to see their son or daughter tapped for selection. Assemblies were held for each induction and students were allowed to view the ceremonies. After the tapping, snacks were served in the cafeteria for members and their families. Mrs. Hancy was this year's NHS advisor.

NHS members participated in several activities and projects this year. On Teacher Appreciation Day, each member was assigned a teacher and did special favors for him/her for the day. They also sent care packages to two families at Christmas. Members tutored students throughout the year. At the end of the school year, senior members went on an all-day canoe trip to Mohican State Park. This year's officers were David Tomasula (president), David Cook (vice-president), Valerie Ringel (secretary), Amy Waterfield (treasurer), and Carrie Long (historian).

Black History Month Celebrated

The month of February was designated as Black History Month. Perkins students who are members of CBBS (Confederation for the Betterment of Black Students) put together an assembly for the student body, entitled "Chasing the Dream." Charles "Red" Carmen was a special guest. Special tribute was given to the following people: Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., Dr. Ronald McNair — space astronaut, the late Harold Washington — Mayor of Chicago, and Rev. Jesse Jackson — 1988 presidential candidate. Poems by Langston Hughes were performed by the students while background music was played by the band. The 1987-88 officers include David T. Harper, president, Larry A. Sparks, vice-president, Triianne C. Mitchell, secretary, Rodrick A. Sterling, treasurer, and Anthony D. Keys, historian.

Juniors Work Hard To Make A Night We Won't Forget

The 1988 Prom, presented by the Junior class, was truly a night to remember. It was held at the Cedar Point Convention Center at 8 p.m., May 8th. Couples danced from 8 p.m. to 12 a.m. After the prom, many attended an after-prom party, held at the Greentree Inn. The theme of this year's prom was "I Won't Forget You." Requests were taken by the DJ, and students danced to their favorite songs — fast and slow. Woodard Photographic Studios were on hand to take pictures of couples in front of a special backdrop of silver and purple balloons. It was a magical evening for all of the couples.

Perkins High School again received the Outstanding High School award at the 1988 Science Symposium. This award is given to the school with the highest percentage of superior-rated projects. On May 2, the team competed at Ohio Wesleyan University at the Ohio Academy of Science State Science Day. Receiving superiors were Eric Benedict, David Cook, and Julie Lee.

Along with these students, Marnie Dornhecker competed for special awards. Benedict received first from the Electrochemistry Society of Ohio for the best Electrochemistry project, and fourth place in Engineering Achievement from the Ohio Society of Professional Engineers. Becky Ziss received third place from the Ashland College Geology Club and received the Ecology Achievement Award. All projects were extra-curricular. The team's advisors were Mr. John Blakeman and Mrs. Carol Palmer.

1988 Aqua Tones — ROCK THRU THE AGES

Team members finish a splashy number.

Whose legs are these? We may never know.

This Year's Aqua-Tones show was again a splashing success. Entitled "Rock Thru The Ages," the show drew a large crowd into the PHS natatorium. The show featured numbers with all members, numbers with a few members, and a solo. Also, Shane Burrows did a duet with Kaylin Hauser. The highlight of the evening was the traditional number starring senior guys dressed in various bikinis.

Juniors had a very successful year as they were involved in a great number of activities. They put together the Junior-Senior Prom "I Won't Forget You." They used the concession stand at the basketball games to help raise money.

The Homecoming attendants were Linda Knutson and Chad Harkelroad. The Juniors also had many outstanding athletes and scholars involved in various competitions.

The class of 1990 is a unique and spirited group of people. Their spirit and enthusiasm were evident in everything they did. During the Battle of the Classes the athletic sophomores battled ruthlessly. All through Spirit Week the sophomores showed their fun-loving nature by dressing up and participating in the various contests. With their officers Angie Wheeler, David Wurzel, Matt Yaratch, and Nick Muehling, the class of 1990 excelled in everything they did. Mrs. Hancy helped the class as their class advisor. Anyway you look at it, the sophomore class of 1987-1988 was, and is, destined for success.

ART

The art department's main instructor is Miss Char Schuman. All of the courses offered go through many projects and expose students to all phases of art. Under Miss Schuman's expert guidance, students discover or develop artistic talent, as evidenced by the many fine works that leave the Art Room. Mr. Mike Beuglass also teaches one period of Art I.

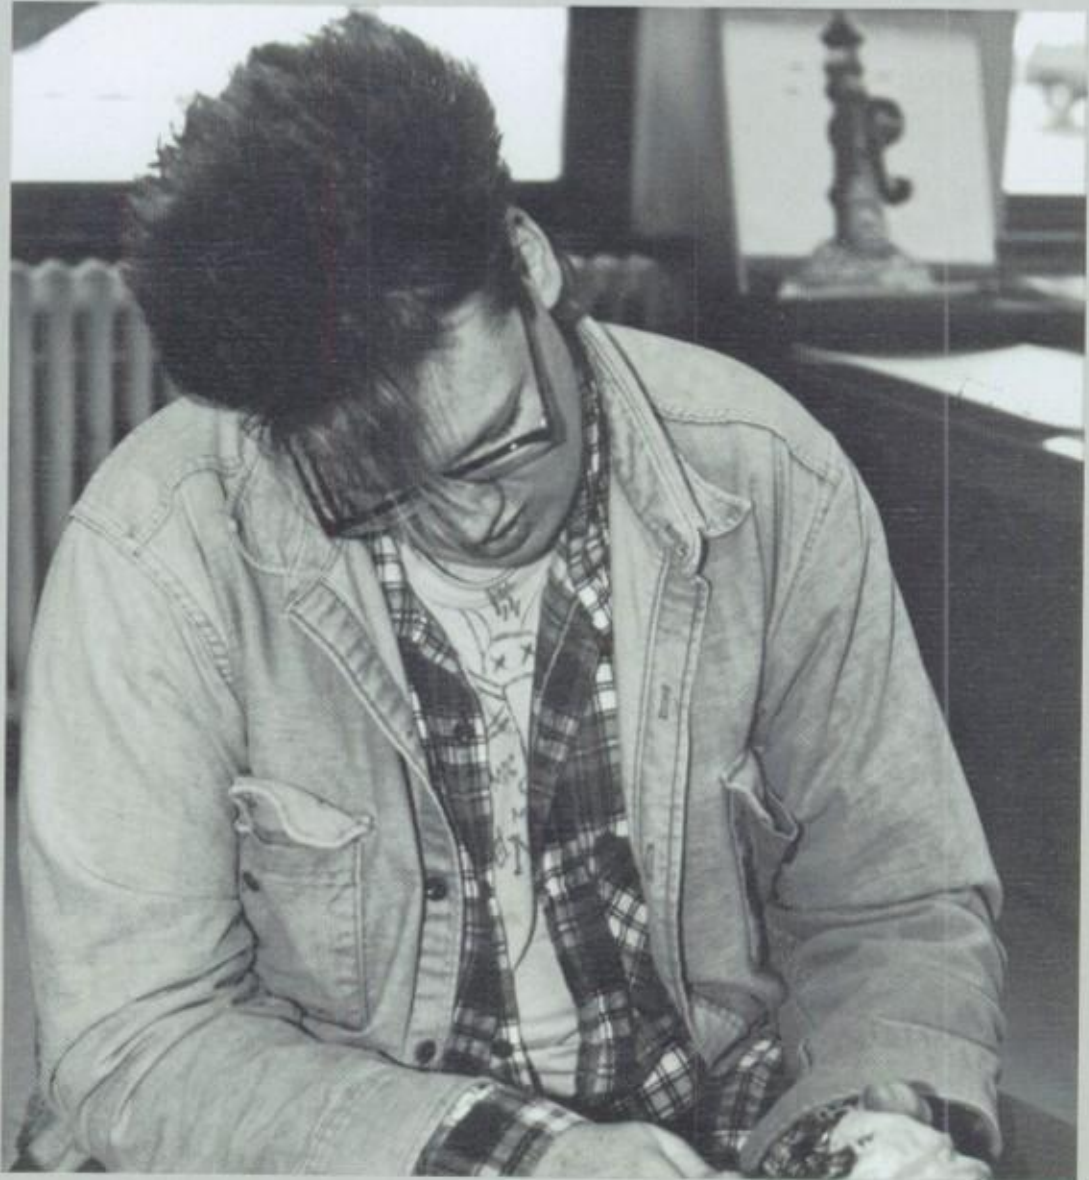

This year, 5 students were inducted into the National Art Honor Society.

Jeff Geiger works intently on a project in class.

The finishing touches are added to a detailed painting (above) and a large sign (below).

BUSINESS

The Business department here at Perkins offers students a variety of career oriented courses ranging from Typing and Accounting to the more extensive classes which prepare students in the secretarial fields.

The majority of these courses are taken as electives and are very popular with the students because they provide a change-of-course in material, instead of the usual academic classes. Also, the business classes subject students to various concepts and skills which may be beneficial after graduation.

S. Roe is all smiles about business.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

These French students are blown over with excitement.

Foreign languages are popular among students, mainly because they are required for college. But many students enjoy learning a different language and experiencing another culture. In particular, they enjoy celebrating various holidays, especially when good food is included. The department consists of Mrs. Spicer, Mr. Pawlowski, and Mrs. Gawryszewski.

Tracy Evans delicately cuts the Spanish delicacy.

In Latin class, everyone always pays attention ...

... ALL the time!

ENGLISH

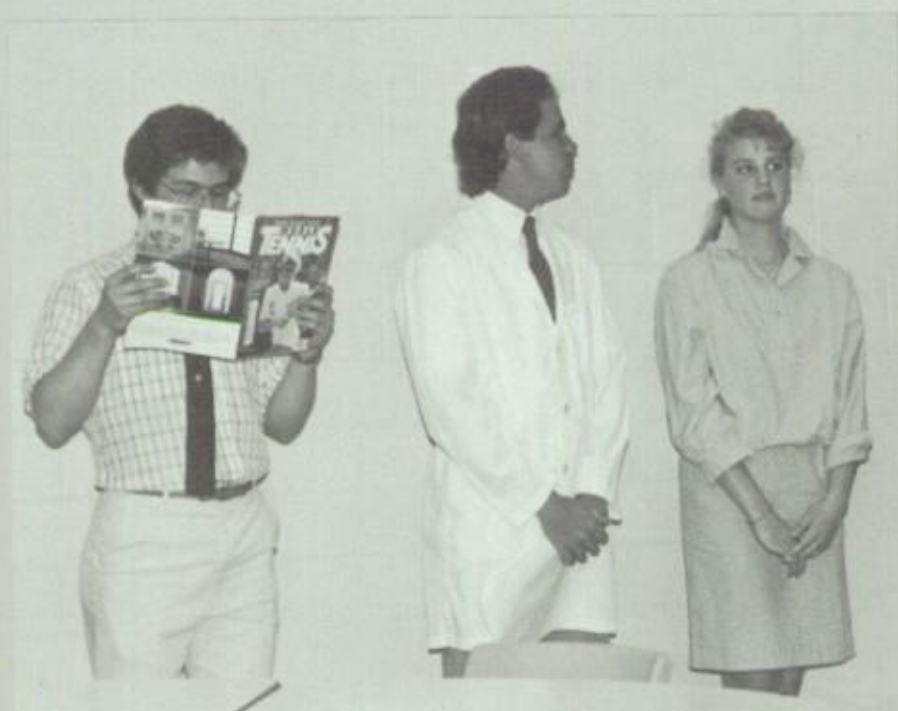

The English department at Perkins High School consists of Mrs. Souter, Mrs. Hancy, Mrs. Van Ness, Mr. Green, and Mr. Riley. Students are required to take at least three years of English, and both general and college prep. level courses are offered.

This year new textbooks were purchased for the junior and senior level classes. Each grade level read two novels or Literary Calvacade magazine.

It was a competitive year in the world of words. Students competed for prizes in both short story and poetry writing.

MATHEMATICS

Every year, students complain about how tough the work is in the math courses. Students coming back from college, however, say how easy their math courses were after the hard work here. So the hard work pays off. And the students continue to win honors in various math contests.

The math department consists of Mr. Taylor, Mr. Luginbill, Mrs. Cummings, Mr. Murschel, Mr. Piper, and Mrs. Garlick (substitute). The courses range from consumer math to calculus.

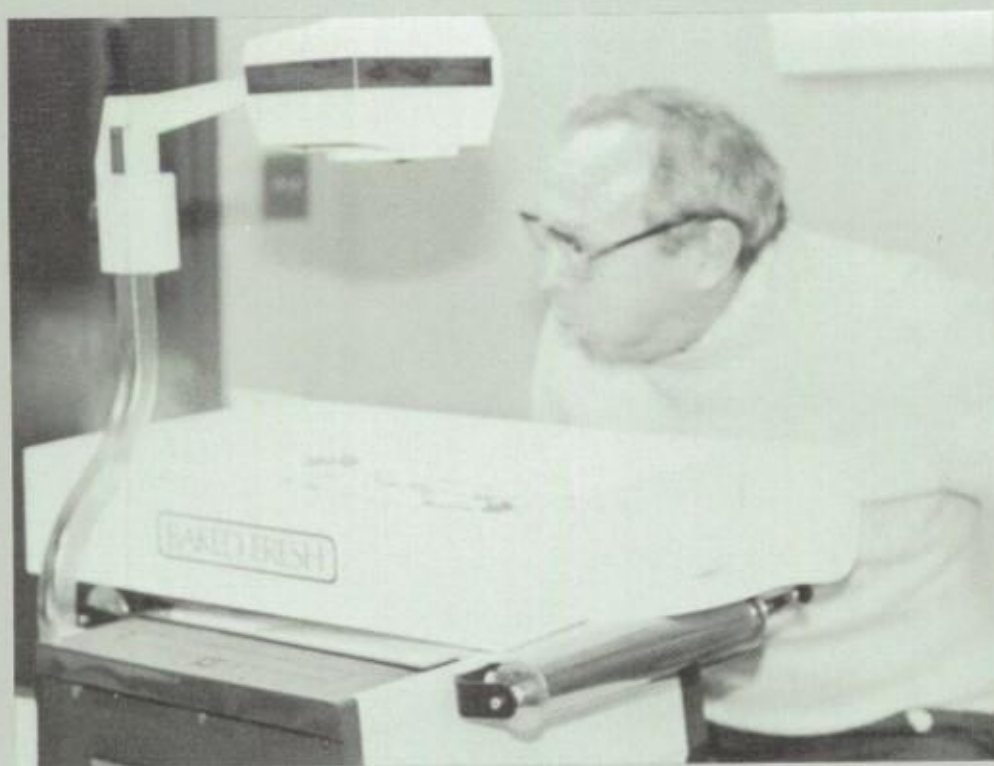

Ooops! Isn't this the Latin section?

SCIENCE

Chemistry lab assistants go crazy from all the work.

The science department continued to hold to tradition this year by sending another research team to state competition, winning superior ratings and the Outstanding High School Award along the way. Several field trips were taken by the anatomy classes to gain more knowledge about the human body. And, the JETS Team did very well, taking fifth place in the state overall.

This year, the department also gained recognition through Mr. John Blakeman — Outstanding Biology Teacher in Ohio for 1988.

The department consists of Mrs. Palmer, Mr. Blakeman, Mr. Earl, Mr. Leonard, and Mr. Murschel. The course offerings include Honors Biology and Chemistry, physics, physical science and anatomy and physiology.

Jason Girard needs a rest after Mrs. Palmer's tough lecture.

Can Joe possibly be studying for biology?

Physical science is sooo exciting.

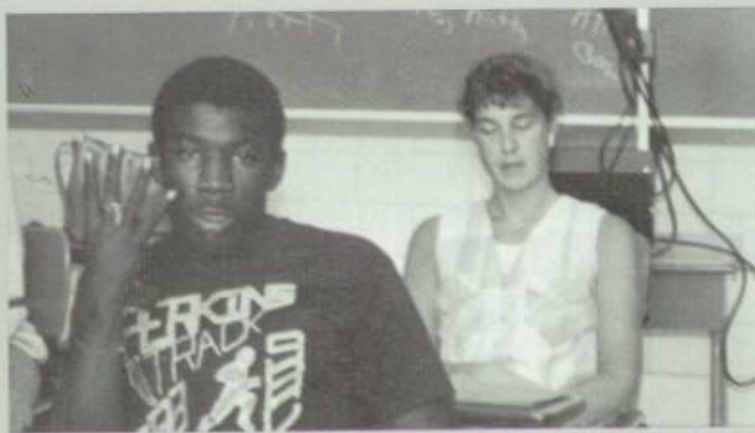

SOCIAL STUDIES

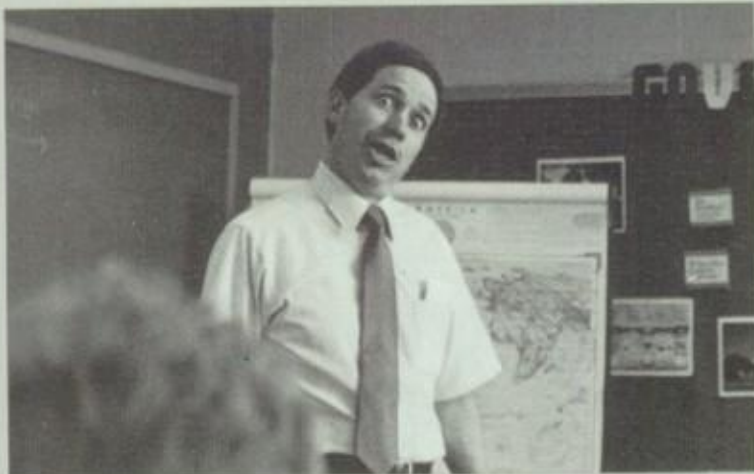

Social Studies is mandatory for Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors. The "yunguns" can choose between World History and World Geography. Juniors have to take U.S. History and Seniors take Current Affairs and American Government. Usually, Seniors can also choose to take Economics or Sociology as electives, but this year these courses weren't offered. The department teachers include Mr. Patton, Mr. Gasteier, Mr. Mehling, and their fearless leader, Mr. Muffler. All try their hardest at making history more interesting for their devoted students, and by the size of their following — they're pretty successful.

Glazed-over eyes, blank expression, pale skin, and a generally lifeless appearance, Amy Waterfield has all of the symptoms associated with "mufflerosis."

V. Ringel shows "How To Never Miss A Day" four years in a row, according to G. Hayes.

Jennifer Kearney (a.k.a. "Kearn") shows that she has opened her history book.

Only sophomores stay awake for history class!

The jazz band plays "cool" music in their "hot" shades.

The music department consists of Mr. Kustec, Mr. O'Shaunessy, and Mr. Skaggs. The courses offered are choir, marching band, and the concert bands. The music department also has a jazz band and pep band, and helps out with the musicals. Traditions have been made and kept by the bands; this year was no exception. The bands were strong again and went once more to state competition, earning Superior ratings.

SHOP

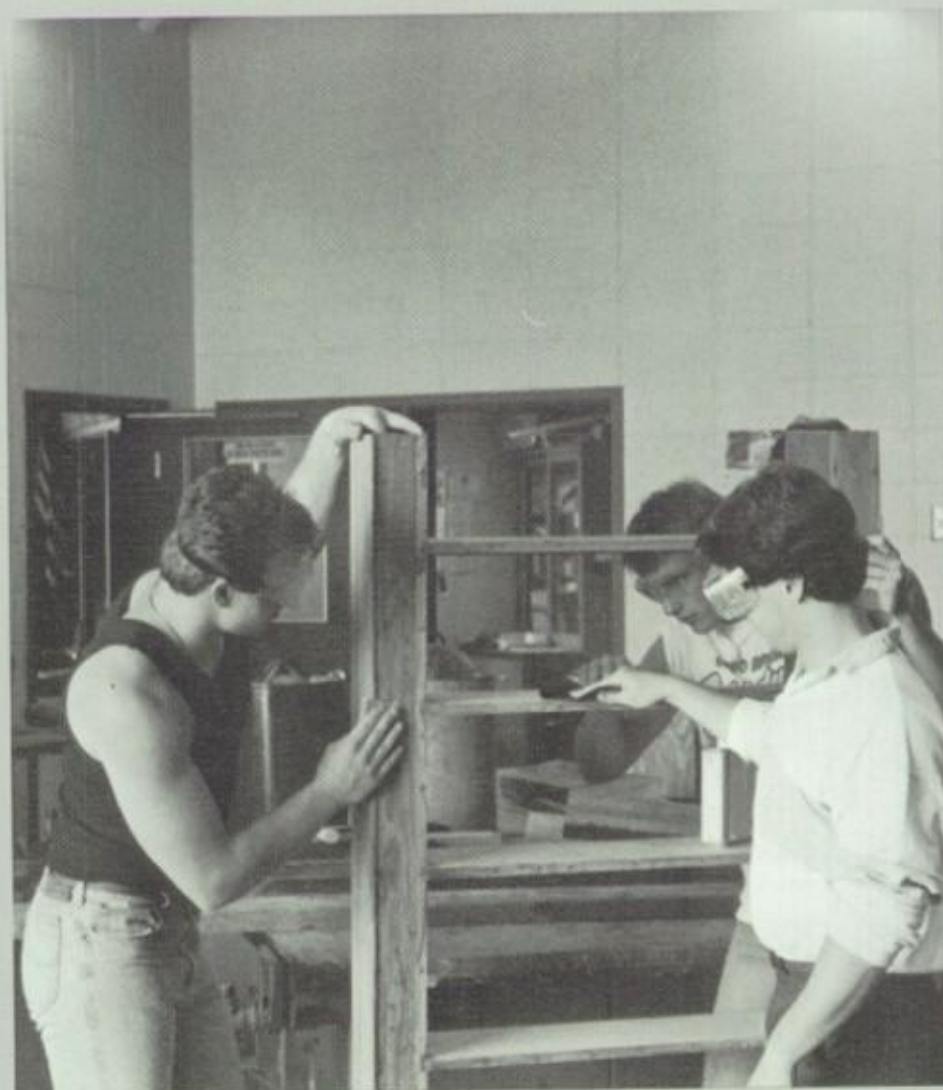

Industrial Arts offers students a wide variety of projects to choose from. Throughout the year they learn and develop new skills that may be found "handy" in the future. The students learn to work with various types of wood and with metal products. The individual projects range from old-fashioned clocks to king-size waterbeds. The department also helps with various other activities, especially making the sets for Aqua-Tones and the Spring Play. The students' efforts are honored every year at the Fine Arts Festival, where the majority of the projects are displayed.

M. Leiser looks on as a classmate is being eaten alive!

What are you going to use that hammer for, Larry?

D. King and S. Taylor add the finishing touches.

VO AG

They're playing in the mud again.

M. Harris is "King of the Hill!"

No, this isn't a line-up, it's just our friendly FFA holding up the walls.

The Vo-Ag department kept the students busy this year, as usual, participating in several projects. A memorial garden was established in memory of fellow students who had passed away. The Vo-Ag students transplanted trees from their land lab to the side of the school, and landscaping and flower plantings are planned for the future. Vo-Ag is also conducting a project which is being coordinated with Mr. Blakeman and the Science Department. Prairie grass was planted during the year in the land lab. Next year they are going to burn it so it grows better the following season.

The students also participated in several outside school activities. These included: a Soil Judging Contest, and a State Dairy Judging Contest in Columbus. These guys have been busy!!

B. Baumgardner is enjoying the plants??

Students who want to learn about cooking and sewing skills, parenting, single living, and consumerism sign up for the Home Ec courses. The wide variety of courses offered insures that students will be well prepared for later years. The teachers that guide students through these courses are Mrs. Gregory, and Mrs. Anderton.

Mr. Patton shows how its done.

The health and physical education team consists of Mr. Grostcost, Mr. Hauser, and Mrs. Veldman. Every day in phys. ed. class physical fitness, teamwork, sportsmanship, and fun are taught. Two semesters of gym are required as well as one semester of health. The physical education program is varied and well rounded.

LD — DH

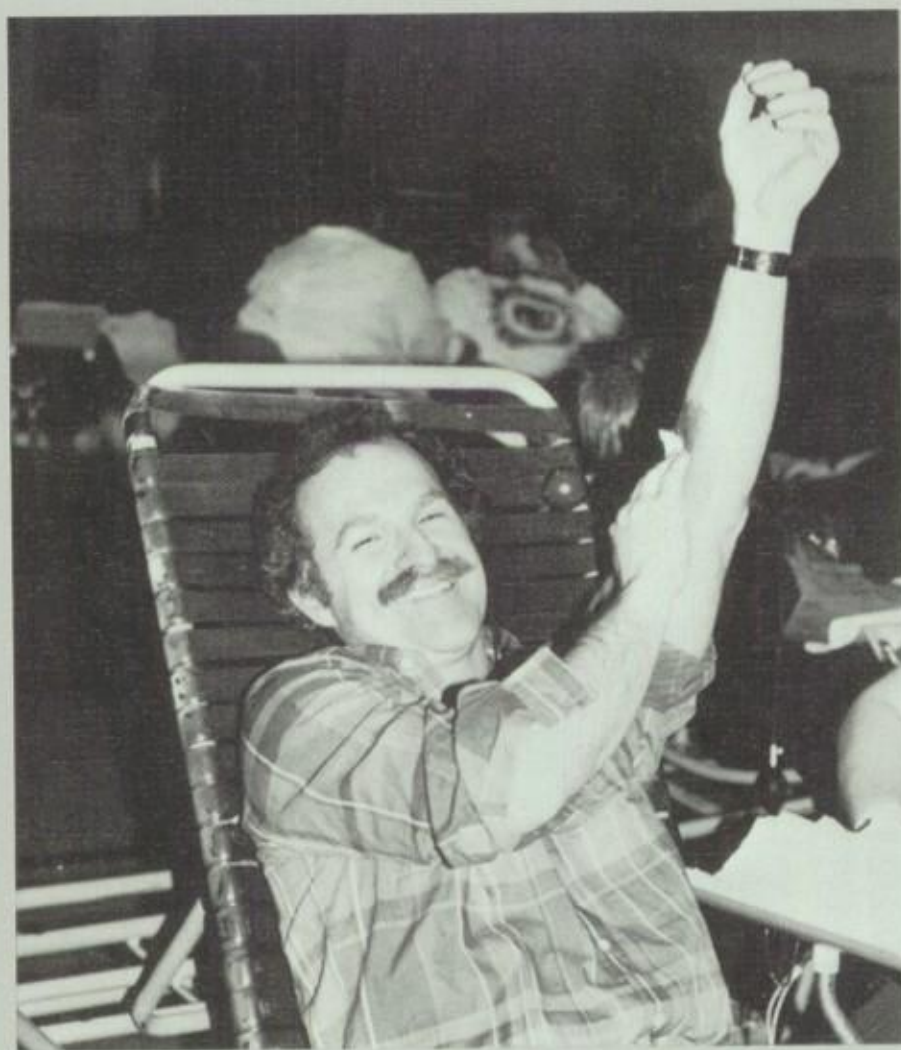

The LD and DH programs at PHS provide students with extra help in their academic work. Mr. Ked Varble is the LD resource teacher. Students who need help in specific subject areas such as math, reading, or government can work in his room.

Mr. Frank Laudonia is the teacher at the head of the DH program. Students in this program study all academic areas. This is also a work-study program, where the students receive training in vocational areas.

Both of these programs are coordinated through the Erie County Board of Education.

Mr. Varble shows the students how to use the computer.

A young Pirate team stormed onto the gridiron crushing their first two opponents, but injuries plagued them for the rest of the season. The season fell into place as they defeated St. Mary's, giving the seniors their first high school victory over the backyard rival. Continuing to improve throughout the season the young gridders ended up with a 4-3 Conference record and a 6-4 overall mark. At the awards banquet Lonell Taylor received the Most Valuable Back Award, John Stewart the Most Valuable Lineman Award, David Long received the Coach's Award, Larry Kingseed the Scout of the Year Award, and the Hitters of the Year were James Young, Russ Roshong, Dennis Neate, and Shane Burrows.

MVP Larry Sparks on his way to capturing the SBC crown.

SBC Open champ Joe "Pete" Davlin.

It took him 15 years, but Coach Hinton finally had his dream come true. His harriers ran through a near perfect season, and capped it all off with the 1988 AA State Country Championship.

The Pirates ran all over their opponents in dual meets this season, posting a undefeated 6-0 record. They beat all 5 Sandusky Bay Conference foes and cross-town rival Sandusky, all by an average of 28 points. The team also conquered other challengers that they faced along the Invite trail. The Pirates were champions at the Tiffin Carnival, the Perrysburg Invitational, and the Malone College Invitational. They continued their championship ways as they took the team title for the sixth straight year at the SBC meet.

Following the SBC meet, the Pirate runners began their race to State. The team captured its fifth title of the season as they ran away from the field at Districts. Then the only blemish on the year appeared, as Coach Hinton's crew finished second at the Regional meet. But the Pirates were not to be denied and bounced back the following weekend. They travelled down to Columbus and outran the competition, winning the AA State Cross Country Championship by over 30 points.

Captains for the State champs were seniors Shane Powell and Scott Smith and junior Larry Sparks. Sparks, who was named the MVP, paced the team while winning the SBC individual crown and earning All-Ohian honors.

Smith earned 1st team All-SBC honors, and was joined by junior MIP Jeff Riffle. Scott Powell and his brother Shane rounded off the Pirate squad as the two were 2nd team All-SBC runners.

A very proud Coach Hinton reflected on his fifteenth year "dream" team this way. "This is a group of fine young men and they are very deserving of what they got."

The Pirates posted a .500 record for the season, with 3 wins and 3 losses in dual meets. This included wins against Sandusky Bay Conference rivals Clyde and Huron.

The Pirates also ran in three invitationals, placing 4th at the Norwalk Invite. The Pirates also claimed two third places in the SBC and district meets. The surprise third place finish at districts qualified the girls for the regional meet, where their season ended.

Tammy Schaefer paced the Lady Pirates as their top runner. She was named the MVP and earned a spot on the first team All-SBC. Freshman Jennifer LaFene was a member of the second team All-SBC, and also received the Most Improved Award. Junior Jody Zavala took home the Coach's Award.

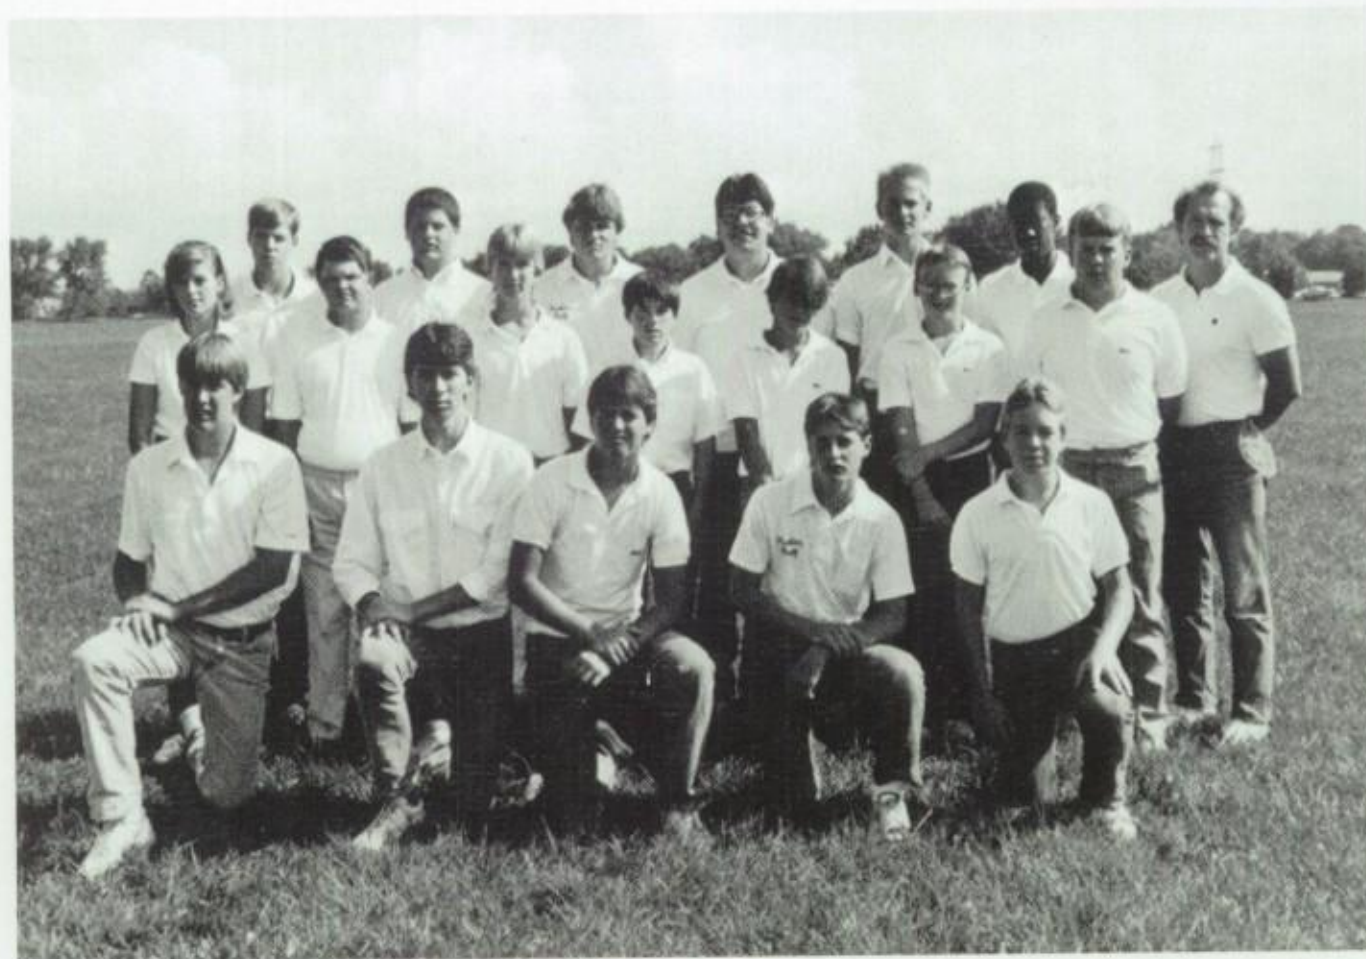

Reflecting on the season, second year Coach Chris Green said, "The high point of the season was when we finished third at districts." With his young squad, he is "really looking forward to next year. We have the potential to be one of the best AA teams around."

Coach Frank Laudonia's Linksters placed second in the Sandusky Bay Conference during the 1987 season with a 12 win, 3 loss season.

The Pirates got off to a rocky start, losing their first match to Huron in the rain. But they bounced back quickly, winning 8 straight matches against SBC opponents, including a revenge victory against Huron. The Pirates then suffered their second loss by two strokes to the hands of St. Mary's. Again, they recovered and won 4 in a row, leaving them with a shot at the SBC crown. On the final day of the season, the Pirates lost to a tough St. Mary's squad in an exciting 160-157 match. The Pirates settled for second place in the conference, far above Coach Laudonia's expectations.

The Pirate golfers also shot well in tournaments this year. They placed second in both the Norwalk and Erie County Tournaments. They finished fourth at districts, missing out on advancing to regionals by one stroke.

Captains for this year's team were seniors Chris Brooks and Marc Burris. Brooks claimed the Coach's Award at this year's banquet. The MVP award went to junior Dave Voight. He was medalist at the Norwalk tournament, and was the top man on the first team All-SBC. Another junior, Jeff Abrahamson, was named the Most Improved golfer.

Coach Laudonia had some thoughts on the successful season. "Going into the season, I wouldn't have ventured that we would've placed second. It was an exceptionally good year and very rewarding."

Captains Amy Lucal and Amy Litz seem to have come up with a good game plan.

The Pirate volleyball team had high hopes for the 1987 season with eight returning letter-winners. But, because of a tough schedule and inconsistencies, the Pirates finished with a disappointing 11-12 record.

In the SBC, the Pirates, led by captains Amy Litz and Amy Lucal, ended up in 5th place with a 6-6 record. This included exciting wins against rivals Huron and St. Mary's.

In tournament action, the Pirates took a 3rd place at the Norwalk Invite. However, the season was quickly halted by a loss to Huron in the first round of sectionals.

Amy Litz was named to the first team All-SBC, as well as the first team All-District. Amy Lucal earned a place on the second team All-SBC, and junior Shannon Chill received honorable mention. Shannon Chill was chosen as one of next year's captains, also.

The Junior Varsity, coached by Lisa Sprouse, had a 6-16 record.

Never has Coach Taylor had so many girls go out for tennis. Since most of his starters graduated last year, he was not exactly sure what to expect. However, he was very pleased with his team's performance. Coach Taylor led his netters to a 3rd place showing in the SBC by using a variety of people on varsity.

The Pirates, led by captain Mary Lucal, ended the season with a .500 record, 4-4 in the SBC. In regular dual action, they finished just under .500 at 7-8.

At the Sandusky Invitational, Perkins was the runner-up. Jane Elias was the #3 singles champion and the #1 doubles team champ was Mary Lucal and Linda Bertsch. Mary Lucal and Linda Bertsch were also #1 doubles runner-up at the Ashland Invite.

The two double teams had excellent performances at sectionals; Mary Lucal — Linda Bertsch were 2nd and Lisa Semple — Jane Elias were 3rd. Mary and Linda were also 2nd at districts which qualified them for state.

At the awards' banquet, senior exchange student, Esther Valdboer, was named MIP; junior Linda Bertsch received the Coach's award; and senior Mary Lucal was MVP. Mary Lucal and Linda Bertsch had the honor of being named the All-SBC #1 doubles team.

Coach Pat Riley's cagers picked up the pace in the second half of the season to claim the runner-up spot in the Sandusky Bay Conference with a 10 win, 4 loss record.

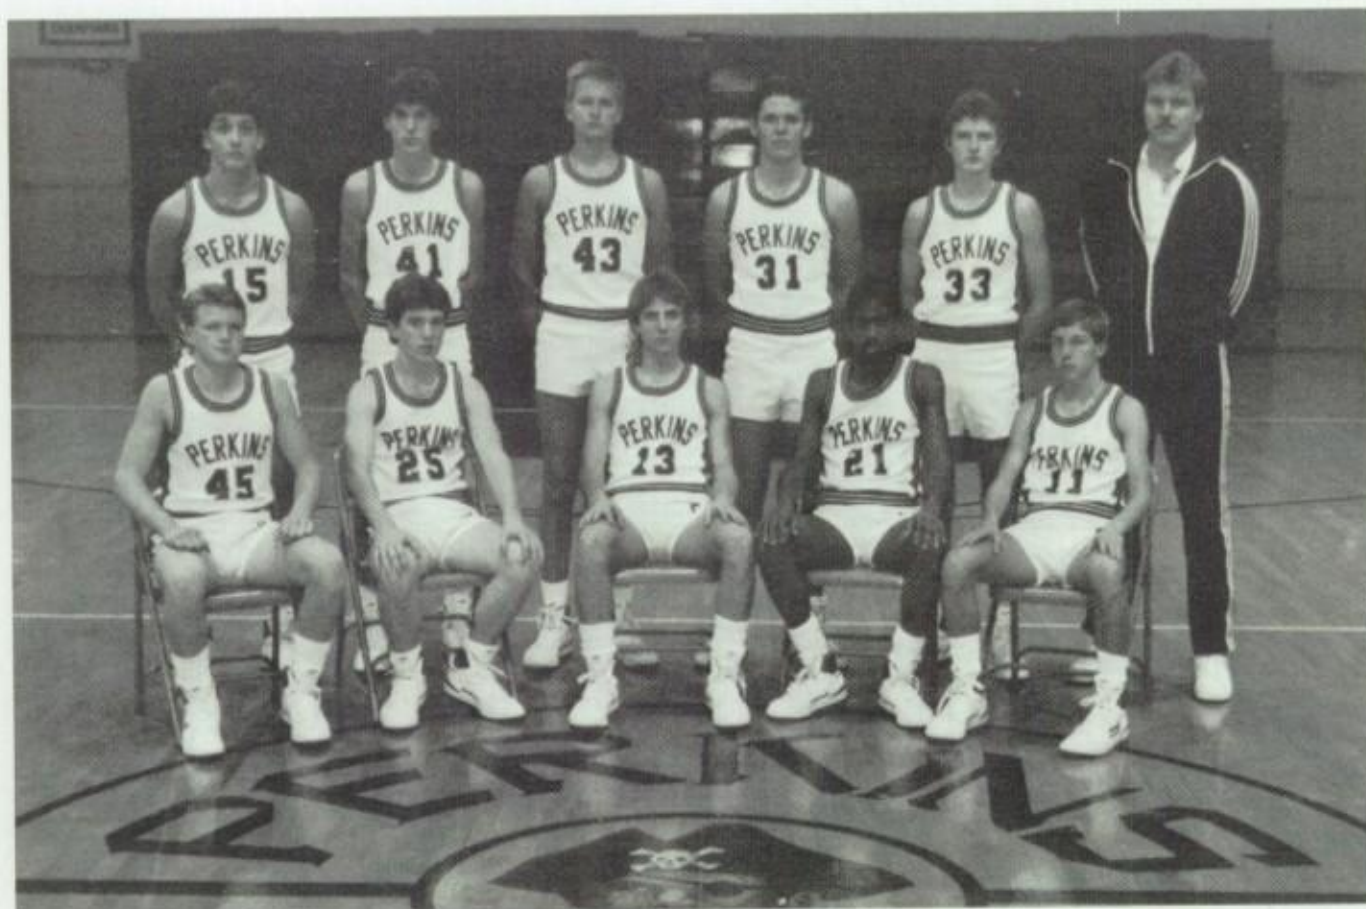

The Pirates' season started on a sour note, losing to Oberlin on opening night. But they quickly fired back to win 3 straight, taking an early lead in the SBC with a 2-0 record. After a loss to Oak Harbor, they beat cross town rivals Sandusky and St. Mary's. Three consecutive losses set the Pirates back to 5-5 overall, 3-3 in the conference. They finished the first half of the conference schedule by clobbering Margaretta with a season high 88 points. The Pirates then went on a tear, winning 6 in a row, including 5 against SBC enemies. Their record stood at 12-5 overall, 9-3 in the SBC. They split their remaining league games, and sandwiched a win over Norwalk in between. They finished the regular season at 14-6, and 10-4 in the SBC, to clinch second place.

The Pirates were quickly dropped from tournament action, as they lost by 11 to sectional champ, Willard. The Pirates finished with a 14-7 record.

Leadership on the team came in the form of senior co-captains Shane Burrows and Ron Grimmer. Shane was also the recipient of the Coach's Award. Meanwhile, the team was paced by junior MVP Dennis Neate. Among his honors were 1st team All-SBC and 2nd team all-district. Junior Rob Boos was named the Most Improved Player on this year's squad.

Coach Riley had some thoughts on his fourth year team. "We played some quality opponents. The players gave their heart and soul for the team. They made a strong commitment to the team effort."

During a competitive season they compiled a 6 win, 8 loss Sandusky Bay Conference record while shooting their way to a 12 win, 11 loss overall mark, dropping many of their losses by only a few points.

Through their efforts, this team won the Sectional Championship while placing two players in a position to receive individual honors. Senior co-captain Amy Litz was chosen as a Second Team All-SBC selection. Junior co-captain Shannon Chill was a First Team All-SBC selection, a Second Team District Six selection, and was Honorable Mention in the All-Ohio selections.

This year the girls took to the floor winning the first four of five games played. They finished the season strongly, eventually laying claim to the Sectional crown.

At the Awards Banquet Shannon Chill was named the team's Most Valuable Player, Amy Litz was the recipient of the Coach's Award, and Jennifer Kearney was the Most Improved Player for the year.

For coaches Joe Groscost and Mike Anderton, the season was better than expected. With only a handful of lettermen returning, this was to be a year of rebuilding. However, the young Pirate swim team compiled an impressive 10-3 record.

The tankers began the year with a splash, winning solidly over Galion, only to lose the next meet against the always strong Northview. During the middle of the season, the Pirates coasted to five straight victories including wins over rivals Sandusky and Port Clinton. Unfortunately, the young swimmers suffered two consecutive losses against state ranked Findlay and Columbus Academy. But, they got right back on track and finished the duel meet season with four wins.

At the beginning of the season, the swim team took a 3rd at their Conference Relays. Finishing the season on a high note, the team worked hard to get a 1st place at the Port Clinton Relays.

Leadership was provided by tri-captains John Dutton, Ed Gembka, and Russ Roshong. Ed and Russ were also the Coaches' Award winners. Junior MVP Steve Tann had an outstanding year. He was the Conference champ in the 50 and 100 free lowering the school record in the 100. Again in the 50 and 100 free, he was the district runner-up qualifying him for state. Freshman Mark Wright was chosen as the Most Improved. Senior Eric Benedict was also recognized as an Academic All-American for keeping a high grade point average and being involved in athletics.

Coaches Groscost and Anderton could not have asked for more from this year's girls' swim team. They were the best team ever — collecting the most power points and placing second in the A-AA final state ratings. In dual meets they were perfect, winning all 13, and they won their 100th meet.

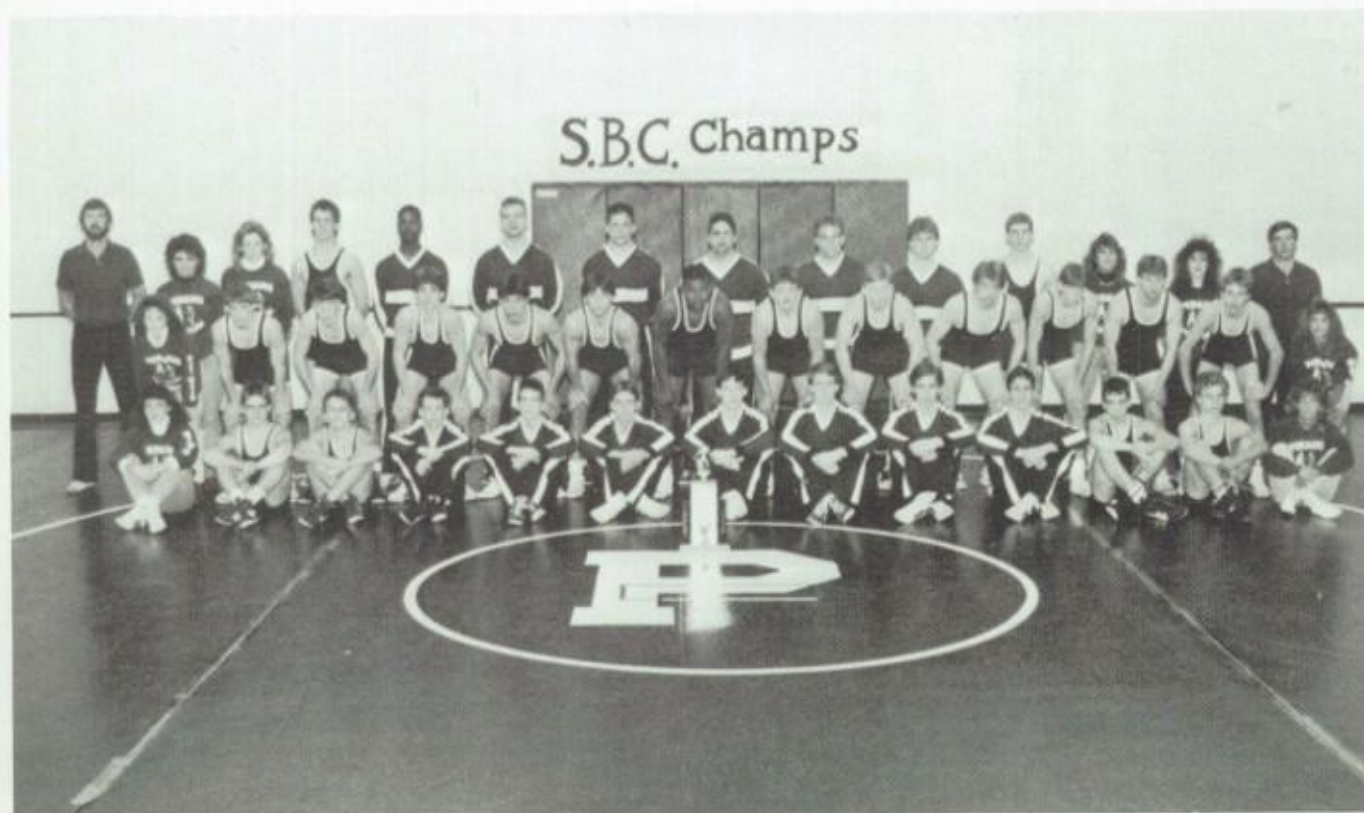

The season began with the Lady Pirates, under the leadership of Jenni Goodman, Wendy Petropoulos, and Kelley Schaefer, drowning Galion (108-63). Their first test came from highly state ranked Northview. In the end the tankers passed with flying colors (88-83). The next six wins, including victories against Port Clinton, Sandusky, and Oak Harbor, prepared the team for their last real hurdle, Columbus School for Girls. But, once again, the Pirates splashed pass their opponent (90-82) in a hard fought battle. The girls swam out with style defeating Ashland (117-55) for their 100th team win.

The Lady Pirates also dominated their conference taking first in the NWOAC Relays and the NWOAC Conference championships. At the Port Clinton Relays, the Pirates continued their winning ways by taking another first.

Junior MVP Beth Pheasant led the Pirates to the fast lane. She was the conference and district champion in the 50 and 100 freestyle, breaking the school record in the 50 free. Senior diver Kelley Schaefer was named Most Improved. For 11 dives, she broke the school record and was conference champion. With her record breaking performances in conference and districts, she qualified for All-American consideration. Also, receiving recognition were Academic All-Americans Wendy Petropoulos, Jenni Goodman and Kathy Gordon for their excellent achievement in school.

Coach has a few last minute tips.

For the second time, the Perkins wrestlers, led by co-captains Jason Broughton and Mark Eckert, were crowned SBC champions. This could not have been a better way for Coach Chuck Teagarden to end his nine year coaching career. Despite 26 different wrestlers seeing varsity action and a variety of illnesses, the Pirates finished with a solid 10-4 record.

During the dual meet season, the Pirates were 5-3 against non-conference opponents. However, the wrestlers fared much better against SBC teams posting a 5-1 record only losing to Huron. At the invitational level, the grapplers placed 2nd at Galion and 7th at Tiffin. But, it was at the SBC Tournament where the wrestlers would show their stuff. With one champion, Jeff Thom, and four runners-up, Mike Briehl, Mark Eckert, Matt Cadez, and Mickey Harris, the Pirates finished ahead of the rest. Finally, at sectionals, four wrestlers qualified for regionals by placing in the top four. Mark Eckert and Jeff Thom took 2nd; Dion King, 3rd; Bryan Thom, 4th.

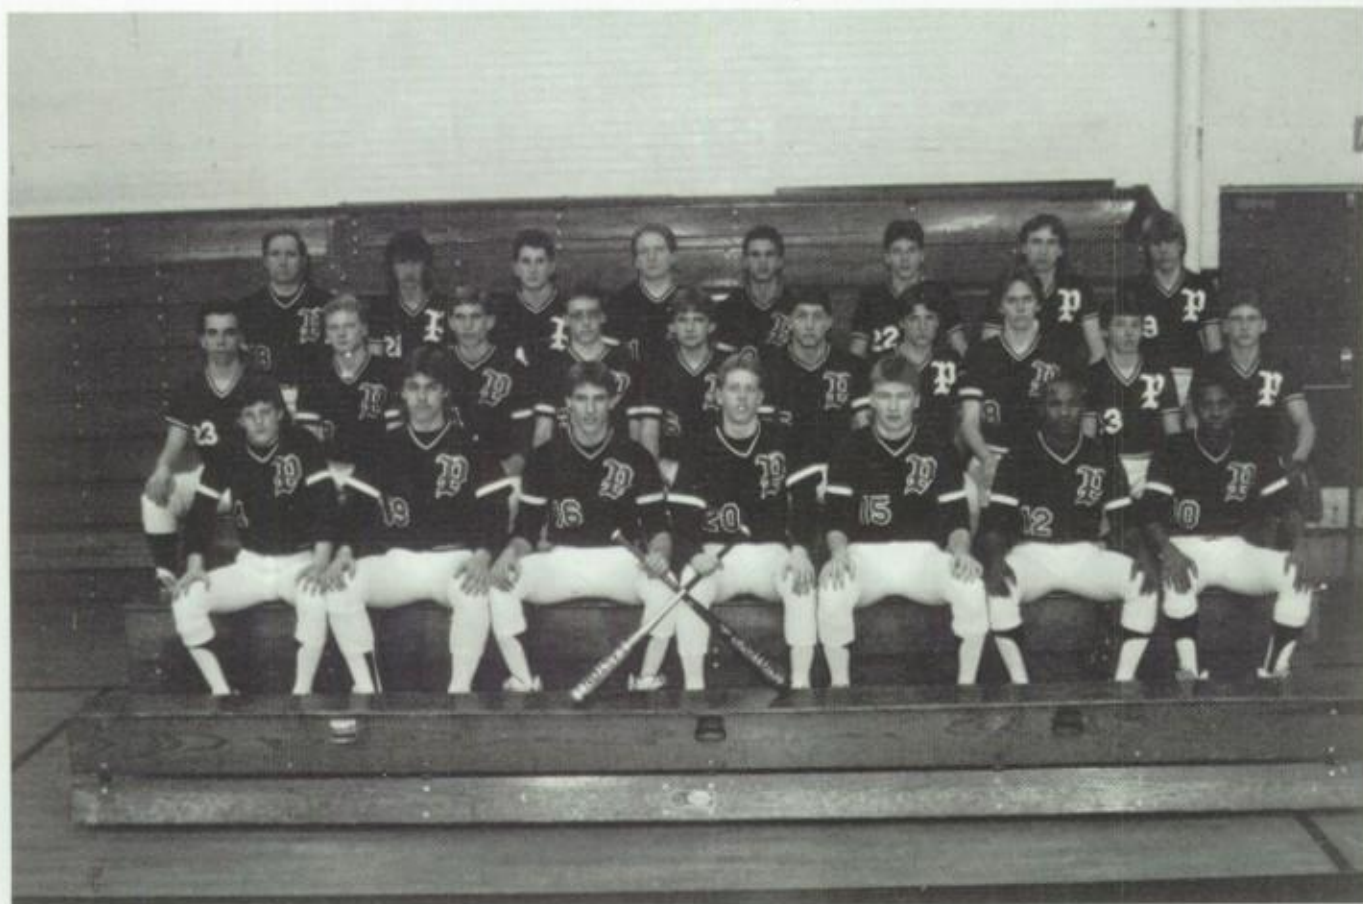

This year's team had the perfect blend of youth and experience as shown by MVPs senior Mark Eckert and sophomore Jeff Thom. For showing leadership and hard work, senior Jason Broughton was the recipient of the Coaches Award. And sophomore Kevin Apling was named Most Improved.

Coach Mehling's Pirate baseball team struggled through a tough spring of 1988 with only one victory, but they still managed to provide some moments of excitement.

The Pirates went winless through the first half of a disappointing season. They lost all 7 games in the Sandusky Bay Conference, and 5 more out of the league. The second half of the season started the same way as the team lost 6 straight conference games. But finally, in their 19th outing, the Perkins Pirates broke into the win column with a win over the Edison Chargers, 5-4. The season ended with another SBC loss, leaving the Pirates at 1-19 on the year, and 1-13 in the league. The season wasn't a complete flop, though, as the Pirates were competitive. Five out of the 19 losses were one run heartbreaks. The bats were alive as the team averaged 4 runs a contest, which included a 14 run outburst against Port Clinton. And the team improved during the second half of the season, cutting its margin of loss in half.

Player awards ran high on the 1988 team. Senior leadership was provided by both Dave Long and Jeff Lewis. Long, the main pitcher of the squad, was named MVP. The Freytag Award, given to the player who shows hustle, desire, and spirit, went to junior John Walker. And freshman Scott Terry was named MIP for the squad. Jim Guerrero, who pitched the winning game, received second team All-SBC honors. Long, Terry, and junior Bryan Lippus were part of the honorable mention All-SBC team.

Coach Mehling was proud of his players for all showing Freytag qualities during his 12th year. "We asked the kids to give a winning effort and to hustle the whole game, and that's what we got."

Holly Kidd is mean at the plate.

Coach Veldman's first year managing the softball team wasn't the greatest, but she did establish a tradition to be carried on by future teams.

The season started off on a low level for the Lady Pirates, as they lost 5 straight contests. They chalked up Coach Veldman's first win in her sixth game, defeating Huron by a score of 18-17. They lost their next game, but won two in a row over Clyde and Sandusky. They closed out the first half of the season with a victory over St. Mary's to stand at 4-9 on the year, and 3-3 in the Sandusky Bay Conference. They started the second half the same way as the first, losing 5 SBC games in a row. But they ended the season on a high note, as they beat the St. Mary's Panthers again, this time by a tally of 10-3. They took fifth place in the SBC with a record of 4-8, and were 5-14 for the entire season.

Fifteen players lettered for the softball team. They were lead by fourth year senior captains Amy Lucal and Lauren Urban. Local was named the team's MVP, while Urban received second-team All-SBC honors. Junior Jeanne Sibert was awarded with the 1988 Coach's Award, and the MIP trophy went to freshman Diane McRae. Another junior, Julie Lewis, joined Lucal and Sibert as honorable mention All-SBC candidates.

Coach Veldman summed up her first year in poetry form. "Let's not forget our victories four. We couldn't have done it without everyone." Her last thought was that all of her players were winners, because "a winner is one who gives 100 percent."

CONTESTS

This was the year of the English contests. Mrs. Souter, head of the English department, began her second year in the position with a bang. The year started out with a short story contest. Senior JoAnn Cummings, Perkins' resident author, spoke with all of the English classes and gave pointers on how to write a short story.

Then the students went to work. The English teachers made writing a short story a requirement. After the hundreds of short stories were turned in, teachers graded them and sent the best of the bunch to Mrs. Souter.

The top story at each grade level received ten dollars and were honored at the Honors banquet.

The year ended with a poetry contest. Students were encouraged to enter as many poems as they wanted. Wendy Petropoulos, Carrie Long, Amy Lucal, and Marnie Dornhecker ranked the freshman and sophomore poems while Mrs. Souter ranked the junior and senior poems.

All the winners were published in the Treasure Chest. The literary magazine was sold to the students for one dollar. Reminiscent of the defunct newspaper, the Treasure Chest gave Perkins' English students the chance to stand up and be counted.

Exchange Students

Esther Veldboer lives in Schagen, Holland. Her favorite classes are French IV, POW, and US History because they are filled with upper classmen. Santtu Aaltonen is from Helsinki, Finland. He likes Accounting, History, and POW. Tania Romero is from Piedras Negras, Coahuila, Mexico. She likes US History. Hilke Giessel, from Hamburg, West Germany likes typing and French IV. The long distances; the open, friendly people and teachers; breakfast at McDonald's; and toilet papering surprised these students this year. The thing they enjoyed most about Perkins and American schools is the after school sports. They didn't like the lunches or the restrictions of study hall. Mr. Mehling, Mr. Hinton, and Mrs. Hancy are Tania's favorites because they helped her a lot. Mr. Mehling is also Hilke's favorite teacher because he is funny. Esther likes Mrs. Smith and crazy Mr. Mehling. Mrs. Smith helped her adjust and Mr. Mehling made her laugh. Mrs. Smith is Santtu's favorite because "she is just too awesome to start to explain" and because "she is dynamite!"

Since its opening in 1961, Perkins High School has been a centerpiece of the community. When PHS is one hundred years old, will the school still have its reputation? Will teachers be replaced by computer terminals? What will the school look like?

PERKINS HIGH REVISITED

Memories climb the walls like ivy, but empty silence of early morning brings an eerie feeling to the corridors. A feeling of past, present, and future that envelopes the sole occupant of the building, weaving a tapestry of time. Time with a different face but unchanged.

The janitor, in his grey overalls, walks slowly down the dark halls to a panel of switches. He pulls out a huge ring of keys and searches until he finds the right one for his purpose. His aging hands, tireless in their routine, turn the key in its place in the panel. He quickly flips all the switches.

Light. Fluorescent tubes of light flicker into life as they have done for a century. They shine on rows of yellow, brown, and orange-brown lockers which contain shadows of the past. They fill up the corridors with a yearning for life, for screams and yells is its sole purpose for existence — the harboring of life.

The janitor walks from his office into a carpeted hall. He makes the zig-zag of the corridor without thinking about how many times he has made this same journey in the past or how many times he will make this journey in the future. He again pulls out his ring of keys and opens a set of four glass doors. Outside these doors is a towering tree that reaches the long, thin clouds of morning. The sun, hidden from the janitor by the building, shines on the dew covered leaves of the tree and sparkles.

A car pulls up the narrow parking lot in front of the building and the driver waves to the janitor as the man disappears inside the building. The driver, a man in his late forties, steps out of the old station wagon that at times looks older than the building. He is wearing a suit of shiny grey material. Leaning back into his car, he grabs his brown briefcase and walks into the school. He pulls his keys out of his pocket and opens a door to the left of the carpeted hallway. The cool air of the air conditioner waves over him and he quickly steps into the office to preserve the chill.

In the cool darkness, he feels his way along a long counter. When the counter stops, he reaches out and finds a wall. He turns on the light.

Light. Fluorescent tubes of light flicker into life and shine on a cluttered secretary's desk and a large intercom panel that looks as if it might be left from the Stone Ages. The man walks into the office, turns past another secretary's desk, and turns the light on in his office.

The janitor makes his way to the doors at the far end of the hall perpendicular to the carpeted hall. He opens the lock that chains the double doors shut. He blankly looks out at the empty parking lot and imagines it filled with new cars, ancient cars that are threatening to fall apart, and normal cars. All those cars containing something that sets them apart from the adult world: bumper stickers, fuzzy dice, stereos that blast loud music.

A sedan blocks his view and he watches as a mother unloads a young girl. The girl is clutching a stack of thick books and has her hair tied back.

The girl enters the school without looking at the janitor. She immediately turns to her right and stops at one of the grey lockers. Her books on the floor, her locker open, she waves to the next arrival and the next. The inside panel of her locker is covered with men without shirts on and the top shelf of her locker has a small, stuffed bear. The girl combs her hair back and then tosses her books into the locker.

Another girl wearing a short skirt of red and black material and a black and white shirt talks to a boy. She is looking down at the ground and he is looking over her head at a friend who is using hand signals to communicate his message. The girl speaks. The boy nods.

The doors that line the hall begin to open and adults appear in the hall. Students talk to the teachers and complain. The first bell rings — time to go to class, to lay bricks of memories into the walls.

A classroom filled with still-tired students looks up at the teacher and scribble aimlessly on notebooks. A girl writes at the top of her sheet of paper: "Hi Amy." Another boy expertly draws a banner on his notebook: "Class of '61 #1"

The teacher frowns. "Take out a sheet of paper." The class groans. "Perkins High is one hundred years old today. I want you to write a paragraph about what you think it was like in 1961. Use complete sentences. Punctuate and have a topic sentence."

A student raises his hand. "How long does this have to be?"

Mrs. Van Ness (left) is affectionately called "Loch Ness" by her subordinates. The staff (right) studies intently at a seminar in Elyria.

We didn't do a thing.
In fact, we aren't proud to sing
That this book barely got done —
We were all too busy getting sun.
We drove Loch Ness out of her mind
And all she gets is a copy that's signed.
That's not much good if she goes insane ...
But we couldn't put her out in the rain.
With just a yearbook to be seen,
She won't have much fun in that hospital — If you know what I mean.

Marnie Dornhecker, editor, is all smiles.

A LAST VIEW FROM WITHIN ...

Once again, the school year comes to a close and with it comes the end of making memories for the class of 1988. The races have been run, the projects and papers completed, the friends made and maybe, lost. All of these memories have been recorded in our minds and hopefully, in this book. The View From Within is our view of the school; a picture to last until years from now.

Over the years, students have built up a tradition of Pirate strength in academics, athletics, and music. This year's students continued the tradition. Academically, the Firelands Challenge Team placed fifth but was a strong team. The science department again gained honors at district and state competition, and their JETS Team placed fifth in the state regardless of school size. Many student stories and poems won local honors, and competitions in the math department brought recognition to the students and teachers. Musically, the bands once again represented Perkins at state competition and continued to be strong. And Athletically, the year ended on a high note with members of both track and tennis teams competing at state level. This year's cross country team was first in the state while girls' tennis and both swimming teams sent members to state competition. Perkins' teams had spirit and held together through teamwork and pride! Now this tradition, with hope and strength, is being passed on.

Beyond Perkins, peace has tried to peek out of the dark cloud hiding it. In national and world affairs, President Reagan and Mr. Gorbachev have met twice — once in the USA and once in the USSR. Tentative agreements have been made and the INF Treaty signed. A temporary halt to war has occurred in Nicaragua between the Contras and the Sandinistas. And the Olympic Games have brought together the world's nations in a spirit of peaceful competition. However, terrorism still goes on. The Persian Gulf remains a trouble spot, and millions of starving and homeless people still beg for help. Nineteen hundred eighty-eight is also an election year, and unfortunately, one of discovered corruptions in high government positions.

We cannot overlook these problems, nor can we give up hope. It is up to us to work out solutions and bring back a strong peace for our nation and world. We must take the strength of Perkins and apply our view beyond the school.

Every student in the school contributes to Perkins' picture and view from the window. Perkins is strong in this and will continue to be so in the future. For now, the curtain has been closed on our window and our view. It is only waiting to be reopened in the next school year.

Best wishes to everyone!
